

The Tornado

(Originally told by Oliver Risingsun, remembered by his daughter, Louise Fisher, taped)

Ma'xéhevóvetaso mó'ameohtséhéhe no'ka.

A tornado went through one time.

Móhmáheasétó'a'hahtséhéhe ma'heónemáheo'o.

It blew away the church building.

Oha mósséto'táhanéhe ho'esta naa

The only thing that was left standing were the stove and tsé'òhkéhéseanóheéestsése ma'heónevé'ho'e.

pulpit.

Naa héne tséohketséhetòhemevòse

and that thing they pound on némenéstovee'èstse, éohkéhetóhta'hanéstove.

when it's time to sing (organ), it is told.